O-I Reports First Quarter 2009 Results

PERRYSBURG, Ohio (April 29, 2009) — Owens-Illinois, Inc. (NYSE: OI) today reported financial results for the first quarter ending March 31, 2009.

Quarterly highlights:

- Reported net earnings of $0.27 per share (diluted)
- Adjusted net earnings (non-GAAP) of $0.55 per share represent one of O-I's best first quarter results, second only to record 2008 first quarter adjusted net earnings
- Improved selling prices and product mix contributed more than six percent to revenue compared to the prior year, while total net sales declined mainly due to challenging market conditions
- Improved shipments from trough levels within the first quarter
- Maintained strong financial flexibility with $642 million available under the global revolving credit facility, in addition to cash on hand

First quarter net sales were $1.519 billion in 2009, compared with $1.961 billion in the prior year. Lower first quarter sales reflect a year-over-year decline in shipments and the unfavorable impact of foreign currency translation despite higher average selling prices.

Net earnings from continuing operations in the first quarter of 2009 were $45.1 million, or $0.27 per share (diluted), compared with $174.0 million, or $1.02 per share (diluted), in the first quarter of 2008. Exclusive of the items not representative of ongoing operations, first quarter 2009 adjusted net earnings were $92.8 million, or $0.55 per share (diluted). These results compare with adjusted net earnings of $183.7 million, or $1.08 per share (diluted), in the prior year first quarter. A description of all items that management considers not representative of ongoing operations and a reconciliation of the GAAP to non-GAAP earnings and earnings per share can be found in Note 1 provided below and in charts on the Company's web site, www.o-i.com.

Commenting on the Company's first quarter performance, O-I Chairman and Chief Executive Officer Al Stroucken said, "We posted one of our best first quarters since our IPO in 1991, despite facing a very challenging glass market. We acted swiftly to balance our production with sharply lower demand to prevent building excess inventory and to preserve profit margins over the long term. At the same time, we successfully raised our average selling prices, which more than offset inflationary cost increases. We also reduced fixed costs as part of our strategic footprint alignment initiative."

Operational highlights: Performing well in a challenging market

First quarter segment operating profit was $191.9 million in 2009, compared with $322.1 million in 2008. Glass container shipments declined 15 percent on a year-over-year basis in the first quarter. A significant component of this decline reflected inventory de-stocking across customer supply chains. To balance production with lower tonnes shipped, the Company temporarily curtailed production to prevent building excess inventories. As a result, the Company incurred approximately $100 million of unabsorbed fixed costs associated with the curtailments, while inventory levels declined modestly from the first quarter of 2008. Improved average selling prices and product mix increased sales by more than six percent from the prior year, which more than offset cost inflation of approximately $66 million on a year-over-year basis. Cost inflation was most notably due to higher raw material prices. The year-over-year change in foreign currency translation rates reduced segment operating profit by $29 million in the first quarter of 2009.

The Company eliminated approximately $33 million of fixed costs due to restructuring actions aimed at optimizing its global footprint by shifting production from higher cost plants to more efficient facilities. Since the inception of its strategic footprint alignment initiative in 2007, O-I has shut down a total of 14 furnaces, including three furnaces in the first quarter of 2009. During the quarter, O-I recorded a restructuring charge of $50.4 million ($47.7 million after tax) principally for future additional capacity reductions.

Financial highlights: Strong financial flexibility

Total debt declined to $3.326 billion as of March 31, 2009, from $4.028 billion at March 31, 2008. Debt at the end of the first quarter of 2009 remained flat with year-end 2008 as seasonally higher working capital drove a use of Free Cash Flow in the first quarter, which was offset by a favorable $89 million foreign currency translation. The Company defines Free Cash Flow as cash provided by operating activities less capital spending. Capital expenditures in the first quarter were $46.6 million, consistent with the prior year first quarter. As of March 31, 2009, in addition to cash on hand, O-I had $642 million available under its global revolving credit facility, which does not mature until June 2012.

Asbestos-related cash payments during the first quarter of 2009 were $34.8 million, down from $40.2 million during the first quarter of 2008. The deferred amount payable for previously settled claims was approximately $33 million at the end of the first quarter and comparable to year-end 2008. Approximately 1,000 new lawsuits and claims were filed during the first quarter of 2009, essentially flat with the prior year quarter. However, the number of pending asbestos-related lawsuits and claims declined from approximately 11,000 at year-end 2008 to approximately 9,000 as of March 31, 2009. The reduction in pending lawsuits resulted from the dismissal of federal court non-maligancy cases and the disposition of inactive state court cases.

Business outlook

Commenting on the Company's outlook, Stroucken said, "Challenging market conditions will likely persist over the next several quarters, resulting in lower year-over-year demand and continued temporary production curtailments. However, we expect that shipments will improve sequentially in the second quarter due to seasonally stronger demand and as inventory de-stocking pressures subside. Our strategic footprint alignment initiative and moderating cost inflation also should benefit future earnings. Overall, we expect second quarter 2009 adjusted net earnings will decline on a year-over-year basis, but will improve from first quarter 2009 results.”

Note 1:

The table below represents items in the first quarter of 2009 and 2008 that management considers not representative of ongoing operations.

Established in 1903, the Company employs more than 23,000 people with 80 manufacturing facilities in 22 countries. In 2008, net sales were $7.9 billion. For more information, visit www.o-i.com.

Regulation G

The information presented above regarding earnings from continuing operations exclusive of items management considers not representative of ongoing operations does not conform to U.S. generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP). It should not be construed as an alternative to the reported results determined in accordance with GAAP. Management has included this non-GAAP information to assist in understanding the comparability of results of ongoing operations. Management uses this non-GAAP information principally for internal reporting, forecasting, budgeting and calculating bonus payments. Management believes that the excluded items are not reflective of ongoing operations, so the non-GAAP presentation allows the board of directors, management, investors and analysts to better understand the Company’s financial performance in relationship to core operating results and the business outlook.

Forward Looking Statements

This news release contains “forward-looking” statements within the meaning of Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and Section 27A of the Securities Act of 1933. Forward-looking statements reflect the Company’s current expectations and projections about future events at the time, and thus involve uncertainty and risk. It is possible the Company’s future financial performance may differ from expectations due to a variety of factors including, but not limited to the following: (1) foreign currency fluctuations relative to the U.S. dollar, (2) changes in capital availability or cost, including interest rate fluctuations, (3) the general political, economic and competitive conditions in markets and countries where the Company has operations, including disruptions in capital markets, disruptions in the supply chain, competitive pricing pressures, inflation or deflation, and changes in the tax rates and laws, (4) consumer preferences for alternative forms of packaging, (5) fluctuation in raw material and labor costs, (6) availability of raw materials, (7) costs and availability of energy, (8) transportation costs, (9) the ability of the Company to raise selling prices commensurate with energy and other cost increases, (10) consolidation among competitors and customers, (11) the ability of the Company to integrate operations of acquired businesses and achieve expected synergies, (12) unanticipated expenditures with respect to environmental, safety and health laws, (13) the performance by customers of their obligations under purchase agreements, and (14) the timing and occurrence of events which are beyond the control of the Company, including events related to asbestos-related claims. It is not possible to foresee or identify all such factors. Any forward-looking statements in this news release are based on certain assumptions and analyses made by the Company in light of its experience and perception of historical trends, current conditions, expected future developments, and other factors it believes are appropriate in the circumstances. Forward-looking statements are not a guarantee of future performance and actual results or developments may differ materially from expectations. While the Company continually reviews trends and uncertainties affecting the Company’s results of operations and financial condition, the Company does not intend to update any particular forward-looking statements contained in this news release.

Conference Call Scheduled for April 30, 2009

(a) The Company adopted the provisions of FAS No. 160, "Noncontrolling Interests in Consolidated Financial Statements, an amendment of ARB No. 51," on January 1, 2009, which changed the presentation of noncontrolling interests in subsidiaries. The presentation provisions of FAS No. 160 were also required to be retrospectively applied to 2008.

(b) Amount for the three months ended March 31, 2009 includes charges of $50.4 million ($47.7 million after tax) for restructuring and asset impairment. The effect of these charges is a reduction in earnings per share of $0.28.

Amount for the three months ended March 31, 2008 includes charges of $12.9 million ($9.7 million after tax and noncontrolling interests) for restructuring and asset impairment. The effect of these charges is a reduction in earnings per share of $0.06.

(c) The Company adopted the provisions of FSP No. EITF 03-6-1, "Determining Whether Instruments Granted in Share-Based Payment Transactions are Participating Securities," on January 1, 2009. FSP No. EITF 03-6-1 required the Company to allocate earnings to unvested restricted shares outstanding during the period and was also required to be retrospectively applied to 2008. Basic earnings per share for the three months ended March 31, 2009 were reduced by $0.02 per share. There was no impact on basic earnings per share for the three months ended March 31, 2009. There was no impact on diluted earnings per share in either period.

(d) The number of diluted shares for the three months ended March 31, 2008 was increased by 8,589,000 because the assumed conversion of the convertible preferred shares is dilutive to the related earnings per share amount for that period. Accordingly, dividends were not deducted from earnings in calculating diluted earnings per share for that period.

The following notes relate to Segment Operating Profit:

(a) Operating Profit consists of consolidated earnings from continuing operations before interest income, interest expense, and provision for income taxes. Segment Operating Profit excludes amounts related to certain items that management considers not representative of ongoing operations as well as certain retained corporate costs.

The Company presents information on "Operating Profit" because management believes that it provides investors with a measure of operating performance separate from the level of indebtedness or other related costs of capital. The most directly comparable GAAP financial measure to Operating Profit is net earnings. The Company presents Segment Operating Profit because management uses the measure, in combination with gross profit percentage and selected cash flow information, to evaluate performance and to allocate resources.

A reconciliation from Segment Operating Profit to earnings from continuing operations before income taxes is included in the tables above.

(b) Segment Operating Profit for the three months ended March 31, 2009 excludes charges of $50.4 million for restructuring and asset impairment.

Segment Operating Profit for the three months ended March 31, 2008 excludes charges of $12.9 million for restructuring and asset impairment.

Regulation G

The information included in this presentation regarding earnings from continuing operations exclusive of items management considers not representative of ongoing operations does not conform to U.S. generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP). It should not be construed as an alternative to the reported results determined in accordance with GAAP. Management has included this non-GAAP information to assist in understanding the comparability of results of ongoing operations. Management uses this non-GAAP information principally for internal reporting, forecasting, budgeting and calculating bonus payments. Management believes that the excluded items are not reflective of ongoing operations, so the non-GAAP presentation allows the board of directors, management, investors and analysts to better understand the Company's financial performance in relationship to core operating results and the business outlook.

Forward Looking Statements

This presentation contains "forward-looking" statements within the meaning of Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and Section 27A of the Securities Act of 1933. Forward-looking statements reflect the Company's current expectations and projections about future events at the time, and thus involve uncertainty and risk. It is possible the Company's future financial performance may differ from expectations due to a variety of factors including, but not limited to the following: (1) foreign currency fluctuations relative to the U.S. dollar, (2) changes in capital availability or cost, including interest rate fluctuations, (3) the general political, economic and competitive conditions in markets and countries where the Company has operations, including disruptions in capital markets, disruptions in the supply chain, competitive pricing pressures, inflation or deflation, and changes in the tax rates and laws, (4) consumer preferences for alternative forms of packaging, (5) fluctuation in raw material and labor costs, (6) availability of raw materials, (7) costs and availability of energy, (8) transportation costs, (9) the ability of the Company to raise selling prices commensurate with energy and other cost increases, (10) consolidation among competitors and customers, (11) the ability of the Company to integrate operations of acquired businesses and achieve expected synergies, (12) unanticipated expenditures with respect to environmental, safety and health laws, (13) the performance by customers of their obligations under purchase agreements, and (14) the timing and occurrence of events which are beyond the control of the Company, including events related to asbestos-related claims. It is not possible to foresee or identify all such factors. Any forward-looking statements in this presentation are based on certain assumptions and analyses made by the Company in light of its experience and perception of historical trends, current conditions, expected future developments, and other factors it believes are appropriate in the circumstances. Forward-looking statements are not a guarantee of future performance and actual results or developments may differ materially from expectations. While the Company continually reviews trends and uncertainties affecting the Company's results of operations and financial condition, the Company does not intend to update any particular forward-looking statements contained in the company's presentation.

Performing well in a challenging market

2nd highest 1Q earnings since 1991 IPO

- Balanced production with sharply lower shipments
- Strong price improvement offset moderating cost inflation
- Benefited from strategic footprint alignment initiative

Strong financial flexibility

- Debt flat with year-end 2008
- Significant liquidity

Business outlook (1Q09 to 2Q09)

- Increased shipments
- Lower temporary production curtailments
- Moderating cost inflation
- Additional benefits from strategic footprint alignment initiative

Adjusted net earnings per share ¹

¹ EPS from continuing operations exclusive of items management considers not representative of ongoing operations. A description of all items that management considers not representative of ongoing operations and a reconciliation of the GAAP to non-GAAP earnings and earnings per share can be found in the appendix to this presentation.

¹ The major components of 1Q09 manufacturing and delivery costs include approximately $100 million related to temporary production curtailments, $66 million in cost inflation and a $33 million benefit from the strategic footprint alignment initiative.

Financial Review: Costs

Cost profile improving due to moderating inflation and strategic footprint initiative

Full year cost inflation

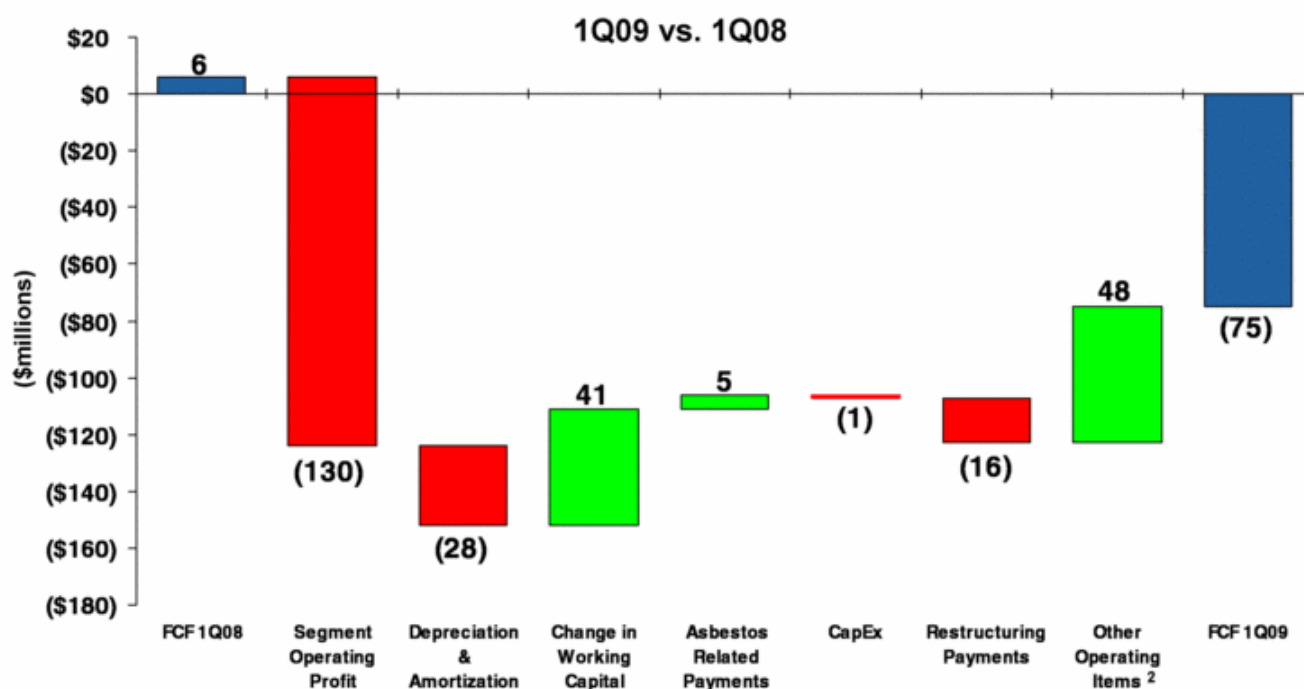

Strategic footprint alignment initiative drives benefits from lower fixed costs

Financial Review: Free Cash Flow¹ Reconciliation

FCF reflects reduced profit and change in working capital levels

¹ Free Cash Flow equals cash provided by continuing operating activities less capital spending.

² Other Operating Items is comprised of retained corporate costs, minority interest expense, current tax expense, net interest, other non-cash charges and changes in other non-current assets/liabilities.

Financial Review: Other Items

Strong balance sheet / Opportunity to reduce Capex if challenging market continues

Balance sheet

- $3.326 billion debt; flat with year-end 2008
 - 2.2 Debt/EBITDA¹ ratio
- $642 million available under global revolving credit facility

Capital expenditures

- $46.6 million capital investments 1Q09, flat with prior year
- Opportunity to reduce full year 2009 capital expenditures $50-60 million if challenging market continues

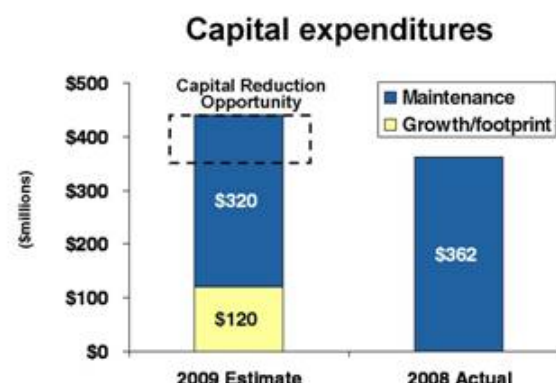

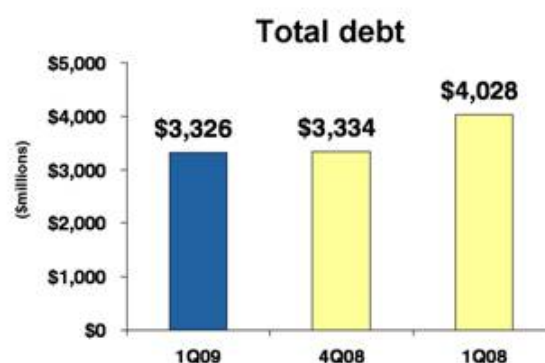

Restructuring payments

- 1Q09 payments of $20.2 million, up YoY from $4.1 million
- Full year 2009 should approximate $120 million

Pension contributions

- 2009 estimate (all non-U.S. plans) is $75-$80 million
- 2010 estimate based on current asset valuations
 - Modest increase over 2009 for non-U.S. plans
 - No required contributions to U.S. plans

¹ Total debt less cash divided by bank credit agreement EBITDA
